LOCAL BRIEVITIES.

A HANDSOME gold sign has been placed over the entrance to the police court.

SUPERINTENDENT WILLIAM THORNTON and J. L. Green, of the passenger department, C. & O. R. R., were in Bridgeport yesterday in the interests of that road.

E. W. STEPHENS of G. A. R., recently formed by a number of the Union soldiers living on the South Side, has arranged to have a bean bake and entertainment at his quarters on next Saturday night.

D. S. APPLANTON, agent of the New York League club, is in the city, signing Billy George, who will pitch for that club next season. He will receive $2,300 salary.

The centre market has been vastly improved in appearance and convenience by the recent alterations and repairs. The Board of Public Works is widening the sidewalk along the two sides of the market square.

THOMAS CONLEY, and Thomas Collins, were the names of two men who at police headquarters last night. When Officers Danlap and Lukens locked them up for disorderly conduct.

The remains of Richardson, the Bridgeport colored man fatally injured by falling from an apple tree some two weeks ago, were buried yesterday without the holding of the post mortem, as expected, as decomposition had set in.

ISAAC O. BLANCHARD, a very old resident of Pleasant Valley, fell down the elevator hatchway at Wilson & Chapman's paint store yesterday, and received injuries which may, at his age, prove very serious.

The Wheeling Schenckverein yesterday celebrated its anniversary on the old fairground. There was shooting, refreshments and a good time generally. A number of the members of the Liederkreis Schenckverein of Bellaire were present and helped enjoy the day.

They have two of the new big engines built the Baltimore & Ohio here now for hauling the fast train, and Johnny Moore holds the throttle on No. 751, running opposite to William Daton, of the 703. The run is to Newark, and we congratulate the boys on their elevation.—Bellaire Independent.

FRANK GLINER, the farmer who was severely injured Saturday evening by the upsetting of his wagon on the Caldwell road while on his way home from the Centre Market, died of his injuries yesterday. His wife is getting along nicely, and is able to be about, though she still suffers pain from her bruises.

SAXATOR KANNA will address an audience at the Opera House this evening on behalf of the Democratic party. The Young Men's Democratic Club will escort the speaker to the Opera House, and the desire among people of all parties to hear him, will result in a full house.

The only case in the police court yesterday morning was that of Bob Muldoon, who was charged with being drunk at the Grand Opera House last evening. The company is composed of artists of acknowledged ability, and Miss Ella Miller who heads the list, is a charming little vocalist and dancer. They, no doubt, will meet with a very flattering reception here.

TWO SMALL children narrowly escaped being run over by the Eighth street horse carriage as it was dashing up street in response to a fire alarm yesterday. The children were seen in front of it, and the driver, who was not seen by the driver until too late to avert a catastrophe. A colored man named Branson rescued the children in the nick of time.

CLARK HOOK yesterday admitted to record a deed made October 6, by D. S. Thornburgh, trustee, to William A. Willson, in consideration of $375, for a piece of land in Tridaleph district. Also a deed made October 14, by Lawrence Murphy and Bridget Connelly to Patrick McGinley, in consideration of $300, for the south half of lot three in square eight in the Joseph Caldwell addition to the city.

LAST Wednesday, the first day of this term of court, John B. Briggs, Esq., resigned the office of Prosecutor of Monroe county, and Hunter Armstrong, Esq., was appointed by Judge Kelly to fill the vacancy. Mr. Armstrong is the first Republican to hold the office in this county. He is a young man of good ability, and no doubt will fill the office satisfactorily to our people.—Woodfield Spirit.

MR. RICHARD MANNFIELD comes to Wheeling heralded by the most flattering endorsement. His "Friend Rick" affords him an opportunity to display his talents and versatility in an entirely new light. From all accounts there is a freshness, a brightness and an infectious merriment about the comedy totally different from anything now on the stage. Mr. Mannfield presents an altogether new type of German character, very different from the Bowerly Dutchman who has figured so extensively as the hero of our comedies for so many years. The audience supporting Mr. Mannfield is said to be a very capable one.

ABOUT PEOPLE.

Strangers in the City and Wheeling Folks Abroad.

Col. Sam Grafton, of Baltimore, is at the Stamm House.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Holmes, of West Union, was at the Stamm House, yesterday.

Mr. George R. Grafton, of the Marietta Chair Company, is in town, the guest of friends.

Mr. Dr. Hildreth and daughter Miss Dorset yesterday for Pittsburgh and Philadelphia.

Miss Laura Ford, of the South Side, is visiting her sister, Mrs. W. C. Beaumont, of Zanesville.

Misses Lizzie Hunter and Nellie Lukens, of the Island, left last evening for St. Louis to visit friends.

Mr. David H. Leonard, of Parkersburg was in the city yesterday. She came up to visit her daughter, who is attending Mt. DeSales.

Mr. Charles M. Shinn, of the Fairmont West Virginia, and Mr. H. Maxwell, left for the St. George Pioneer, were in the city yesterday.

Mr. Richard Mannfield comes naturally by his vocal gifts. His mother was the celebrated actress who became famous as the leading role in the great musical jubilee given in Boston in 1872.

Mr. J. R. McCortney, President of the Bellaire Nat. Works, got home yesterday from a trip to Europe. He had a very enjoyable journey abroad, and escaped several accidents, both going and coming.

Miss Jean Glanville, of Mercer, Pa., is at the Opera House, where she was formerly a student, taking a supplemental course in voice culture. She has several engagements to sing at teachers' institutes in Pennsylvania. While at the Mount she will visit friends in this city.

Mr. H. M. Priest, president of the La-Belle national club, of this city, yesterday moved his family from here to Steubenville, having purchased the residence of Thos. J. Holiday, on South Fifth street, and will reside there.

Lieut. C. K. Curtis, of the United States Navy, arrived at his home at West Liberty last Saturday, after an absence of nearly six years. The last three years he was stationed on the coast of China, Corea and Japan. He was detached at San Francisco and put upon waiting orders, and his vessel, the United States ship Alert, left at Mare Island Navy yard for repairs.

Mr. Samuel K. Poe, of New York, is a clever commercial man who has been coming here for a number of years. He arrived yesterday and wrote the words "and wife" after his name on the McClure House register, for the first time. He was married at his home in New Jersey last week, and is coming to this city with a business trip. His fiancée here will be glad to congratulate him.

A Cheeky Thief.

A cheeky thief last night carried off a coop full of chickens from the sidewalk in front of the commission store of Robinson & McCannagh, on Market street, next door to Luke's livery stable. The coop contained about 30 worth of chickens, and it was deliberately picked up and carried away in the early evening while the street was thronged with people. Two men were seen going out. Eighteen dollars was paid for the chickens, and it is quite novel, it is said, to be enjoyed by those who attend. The apples as usual will be a delicious one. Taken all in all it will be quite an event.

WHEELING THIEVES

OR OTHERS WITH THEIR METHODS

Call on Maque on an Ohio Farmer, Money and Gog him, and steal all the Money There is in the House—The Same Old House Talent at Work.

Some time has elapsed since the people of this city or vicinity have been horrified by the harrowing details of a masked burglary, but it is now evident that the operatives who robbed the Workensauer family, in this city, and old Elijah Marling, in this city, have only been resting for fear of discovery or because of a lack of favorable opportunities to ply their vocations. It is morally certain that at least a portion of the gang which perpetrated the successful robbery of old man Workensauer in East Wheeling were present when Elijah Marling was shockingly tortured and then robbed. The same men have operated in at least one other case in this city, and in at least three cases over the river. In all the methods were the same, the description of the men's build and voices and all other particulars concerning them.

It is significant that during all these years these burglaries never have occurred while certain well known crooks were in confinement. This and the circumstances lead to a plain inference—that John Mooney, who recently escaped from the Ohio county jail, where he was confined for shooting the Town Sergeant of Wellburg, is the leading spirit of this audacious and successful band.

This belief has long prevailed among those in this city who have special opportunities to judge of such matters. The fact that just at this juncture another robbery has occurred, strengthens the belief.

Night before last a party of masked burglars, probably John Mooney, "Egg" Conroy and John Conners, and a fourth man who can be almost as definitely fixed upon, committed a robbery in the neighborhood of Mount Pleasant, over the river. A few miles from that town lives John Parker, a farmer, and a man well up in years. On Friday morning, Parker was awakened by a noise, and he went to see what was the matter. He found a man well up in years. On Friday morning, Parker was awakened by a noise, and he went to see what was the matter. He found a man well up in years.

About 11 o'clock Monday night a loud knock awakened Parker and his wife, and the former answered the summons. He was met by a man, who was dressed in a dark coat and had his face blackened. The leader of the gang demanded of Parker his money, and told him they wanted it without any trouble. His answer was that he had no money, and he begged them to go away. They insisted that he had money, and when he refused to give up they seized and bound him with a rope.

While two of the men held their victim down, a third slipped a piece of rubber and applied them to his bare feet until they were blistered. In the hope of making him give up, the fourth man plundered all the bureau drawers and succeeded in getting four dollars, all the money in the house. After getting convinced that Parker had no more cash they left with this small amount.

The thieves were no doubt acquainted with the fact that Parker had sold his hog on Friday and expected to get a check for it. They thought that they might be able to get the money, and will do his best to bring them all to justice.

A SUNDAY SCHOOL CONGRESS.

To be held in this city—The Topics to be Discussed.

At the last session of the West Virginia Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, Bishop Mallon, with the concurrence of the Presiding Elders, arranged for a series of Sunday School Congresses to be held during the autumn at various points throughout the State. Dr. A. H. Gillet who has charge of the department of the South and West of the Work of the Sunday School Union of the Methodist Episcopal Church will conduct these Congresses. He will be assisted by Rev. W. L. Davidson of Wyoming, Ohio. Both of these gentlemen are wide awake Sunday School workers of large experience; they have been engaged in this work through the West and South, and have succeeded in arousing an interest in Sunday School work that is really wanting here in West Virginia.

Congresses will be held in Wheeling and Monaca for the Wheeling District. Every school in the district should endeavor to participate in one or the other of these congresses, and both if possible. The pastors, and superintendents are ex-officio members, and each school is to organize a delegate—elected by the school; and all Sunday school workers and friends are invited to attend. While the meetings are in the interest of the Methodist Episcopal church, a cordial invitation is given to all churches to participate in the same. The Congress will be held on October 29 and 30, and Wednesday of next week. The Congress here will be held in the Fourth street church. The first meeting will be held at 2 o'clock, Tuesday.

The topics to be discussed are as follows:

THE DESIGN OF THE METHODIST EPISCOPAL SUNDAY SCHOOL CONGRESS.

1. To call the attention of our people to the Sunday School work of the Methodist Episcopal Church. 2. To discuss the Methodist Theory of Sunday School Organization and methods of work. 3. To encourage, especially among Pastors and Superintendents, the study of the Church's doctrine, and the subject of Sunday School government and instruction. 4. To aid in the training of our children and youth to appreciate the doctrine, usage, and benevolent enterprise of the Church. 5. To increase the value of our experience and counsel when we attend as we should, as frequently as possible, Sunday School Meetings.

SOME OF THE SUBJECTS TO BE DISCUSSED.

1. Methodist Episcopal Theory and Legislation on the Sunday School. 2. The Sunday School Constitution recommended by the General Conference. 3. The Place, Powers and Duties of the Quarterly Conference Sunday School Committee. 4. Our Own Sunday School. 5. The Union—The Organization, Departments and the Sunday School. 6. The Sunday School and the Temperance Work. 7. The Presiding Elder and the Sunday School. 8. The Charge and his Sunday School. 9. The Sunday School and the Class Meeting. 10. The Bureau Lesson system and its adjuncts. 11. Our own Sunday School Literature.

ARION KATZEVITZ.

The ladies of the Arion Society will hold their first Katzevitz of the season that has just opened in such an auspicious manner, at the Society's club house on the South Side, to-morrow afternoon and evening. It is being looked forward to with the pleasantest of anticipations.

The ladies have prepared a programme that is quite novel, it is said, to be enjoyed by those who attend. The apples as usual will be a delicious one. Taken all in all it will be quite an event.

THE SECOND PIGEON HOME.

Freemuth's Younger Bird Makes Its Long Flight Safely.

Yesterday morning at 7:40 o'clock, Mr. Freemuth's second homing pigeon, released at Wichita, Kansas, Saturday morning at 8:34 o'clock, arrived here in a somewhat damaged condition. It had evidently been attacked by a hawk, or cat, probably while resting at night, and all its tail feathers pulled out. Mr. Freemuth thinks that the damage was done Sunday evening, as he put the bird in the same cage with its mother, the bird that made the wonderful time reported in yesterday's paper, and both were viewed by a large number of people yesterday.

One strange thing about the birds was the difference shown in their powers of endurance. "Wichita," the mother bird, aged eighteen months, was so stiff and sore yesterday that she could hardly fly, while her daughter, the nine months old bird that arrived yesterday, was as spry as a cat, and had not down over 1000 miles in less than 48 hours. Both birds did remarkably well. Their records are sure to attract the attention of all pigeon fanciers.

In a week or two Mr. Freemuth proposes to send the male mate of the two birds that have attracted such attention, out to his brother at Wichita and have him fly them as he did the female birds. This will be as good a test as time as their mates have, as the male bird has not the power of endurance, the speed or the home instincts. The young bird that came in yesterday Mr. Freemuth will probably call "Kansas."

HE FOUND A MATE.

A MAN BOUND TO BE MARRIED

Finds in this City the Wife he Sought, and Proposes After One Hour's Acquaintance—The Very Business-Like Wedding of an Ohioan.

There lives in Monroe county, Ohio, a farmer named Heinlein, aged about 45 years. Last winter his wife died, leaving him six children to look after. None of these were old enough to properly look after the home and between looking after his farm, running his household affairs and endeavoring to bring up his children in the way in which they should go, the resident of the dark hills has had a varied and wearying experience. His friends advised him to marry again and after considering the matter he decided that the best thing he could do was to get married. He came to this city where he has some distant relatives, to look for a second helpmate. He found one suited to his tastes but she was back on his proposition and he returned still single to his farm. Nothing daunted, he resolved to make a second try and did so last week. Last Thursday night he met a woman named Lawrence, and was in her company about an hour. Not desiring to lose time and finding her pleasant and 25 years old, he proposed the subject of matrimony. Nothing definite was arrived at at that time and he called on her Friday evening and again pressed his suit; ere the evening was over, he had been married.

Saturday they were married, the bride, he desired to leave at once for the farm but she had some things to attend to and did not feel that she could well do that evening. Accordingly, he went away by himself and she, having packed her trunks and boxes and bidden her friends farewell, followed him yesterday, going down on the afternoon Ohio River train.

THE PREPARATORY MEETINGS

To Mr. Moody's Work begun Last Evening at Fourth Street Church.

The opening of a series of union meetings to be held by the ministers and Christian people of the city, was held in the Fourth street M. E. Church last evening. The church was well filled and a deep spiritual tone pervaded the meeting throughout. The service was opened with a familiar hymn and a prayer, and then Dr. C. H. Smith, of the city, read a very impressive address on the topic, "Looking to God with All Our Strength and Hope." An hour was then spent in singing by the congregation, art. remarks and prayers were given by the ministers. The services closed with the hymn "Work for the Night is Coming" and the benediction by Rev. Mr. Gantt. Nearly all the pastors of the city were present and the attendance was made up from all the different denominations. The meeting was certainly an encouraging beginning of the work preparatory to the coming of the great evangelist.

To-night the various churches will hold their usual prayer meetings and a union meeting will again be held on Thursday evening in the Second Presbyterian church.

Gus Williams coming.

Gus Williams will appear at the Opera House to-morrow evening in his roistering funny play, "Oh! What a Night!" Of this the New York Journal says: Everybody who is anybody or thereabouts knows how funny Mr. Gus Williams was before he played Major Herman Pottemeyer in the very successful play, "What a Night." Now that Gus is playing the unfortunate German sport nobody can form any idea how droll he is until he is seen in the character. Last night at the Theatre Comique, Harlem, his old friends, who thought that he was a comedian, were knocked completely out by his amusing performance. The secret is this: Mr. Williams is ambitious, he has thought and studied during the last four years, and the result is he is an artist—and those who have not seen him in a season or so, are to use a classical phrase, "dibber-gasted" at the change. His Pottemeyer is universal. He is well supported, Miss Josie Loane, as Angelina Gridley, being splendid. It is a clever piece of genuine comedy work as has been seen in long time, being delightfully natural and artistic.

A FIRE FROM NATURAL GAS.

A slight blaze at the Crescent Sheet Iron mill for the use of natural gas has recently been completed, and yesterday employees of the Wheeling company were making the inspection necessary before turning in the gas. It was supposed that all the stop cocks and gates had been closed according to instructions, but when the connection was opened with the new pipes, the gas rushed in, and a heating furnace, caught fire. The flames set fire to some of the wood work, and for a moment the appearance of things was very threatening. The alarm was rung in, and the department responded very promptly, but the flames were extinguished by the employees with buckets and a small hose before any serious damage was done.

One of the workmen was struck on the head by a falling piece of iron, and he was taken to the hospital. This was the only foundation for the report that a man was seriously hurt.

MINOR'S STRIKE AT MOUNDVILLE.

There is trouble at the Moundville coal shaft between the operators and miners, that may result in a long strike. The miners a few days ago employed a check weightman and the operators thought this was not right and objected to him. The men held a meeting and organized a union in order to protect themselves, and the operators then discharged four men whom they thought were the leaders. The miners would not submit to this, and all came out and notified the operators that they would go back when the four discharged men were taken back. Whereupon the operators replied that if the men would sign a paper agreeing not to have any more strike, they would take them back, and not till then. The men refused to do this, and will fight it out. They will go ahead and complete their organization, and ask the court to force the operators to take them back until the trouble is settled.

THE BENSBURG OPERA COMPANY.

A small audience greeted the second performance of the Bensburg Opera Company at the Opera House last evening. It was probably owing to the size of the audience that Miss Bensburg was not as satisfactory as on the previous evening. Her "Last Rose of Summer" was disappointing to those who had heard her as Marguerite. She was better in "The Sleeping Queen," though not up to her performance of Monday night. Miss Montegriffo was charming in "The Two Men of Strassburg" and did her best to do these two roles, but to little effect. The audience was appreciative as the performance justified. Of Miss Bensburg it may be said that Wheeling's musical people were never more charmed by any prima donna.

patient is often so offensive that he cannot go into society, and he becomes an object of disgust. After a time ulceration sets in, the spongy bones are attacked, and frequently result in death. A constant source of discomfort to the sufferer is the purulent secretions into the throat sometimes producing inveterate bronchitis, which in its turn has been the exciting cause of pulmonary disease. The brilliant results which have attended the use for years past properly designate Ely's Cream Balm as by far the best, if not the only cure for lay fever, rose cold and catarrh.

What Heel Two Lucky Men in Dallas.

Mr. J. V. Spellman, the dairyman, is well known to everybody in Dallas. He came home ten years ago with two dollars in his pocket. He has made money, owns property, and attends to his business as carefully as ever. Yesterday he learned that he drew $5,000 in the Louisiana State Lottery. He held a one-tenth of the ticket announced as the second prize. Mr. Charles W. Grindley, who holds another one-tenth, is a young man, well known, his position in the ticket office of the Missouri Pacific railroad bringing him into daily contact with the money. Nobody who knows them doubts for a moment that they have each been lucky enough to get $5,000 on the investment of one dollar.—The Dallas (Texas) Evening Times, Sept. 17.
